

REKINDLE UPDATE March 11, 2018

Exciting News! Time Capsule Discovered!

Background:

Some people may remember that, at the “Farewell to the Lloyd Auditorium” dinner held in January, 2017 a time capsule that had been placed in the previous building in 1953 was unveiled. Well, our contractors have now discovered a SECOND time capsule which was behind the cornerstone in the Upper Gathering area!

Unveiling and Opening:

Are you interested in what might be in this treasure from the past? Will it provide a glimpse of what life was like at Port Nelson in the 1950s? We look forward to opening the time capsule on Easter Sunday, April 1st at the 10.30am service during the children and youth sharing time. Our children and youth will get the very first glimpse into what our ancestors thought was important to include. In a sense, it might be like the Easter story – the anticipation of the women who discovered the empty tomb early in the morning. It should be exciting!

New Time Capsule?

All of this raises the question – should we create a new “time capsule” of some sort to include in our newly renovated building? What might the “container” be? What items could be included? Would YOU be interested in helping with this? Contact Susan O’Neill, Chairperson of the Rekindle Communications Team: susan_oneill@sympatico.ca

“For everything there is a season, and a time for every matter under heaven: a time to keep, and a time to throw away; a time to tear, and a time to sew.” (Ecclesiastes 3: 1, 6-7)

REKINDLE UPDATE March 11, 2018

Exciting News! Time Capsule Discovered!

Background:

Some people may remember that, at the “Farewell to the Lloyd Auditorium” dinner held in January, 2017 a time capsule that had been placed in the previous building in 1953 was unveiled. Well, our contractors have now discovered a SECOND time capsule which was behind the cornerstone in the Upper Gathering area!

Unveiling and Opening:

Are you interested in what might be in this treasure from the past? Will it provide a glimpse of what life was like at Port Nelson in the 1950s? We look forward to opening the time capsule on Easter Sunday, April 1st at the 10.30am service during the children and youth sharing time. Our children and youth will get the very first glimpse into what our ancestors thought was important to include. In a sense, it might be like the Easter story – the anticipation of the women who discovered the empty tomb early in the morning. It should be exciting!

New Time Capsule?

All of this raises the question – should we create a new “time capsule” of some sort to include in our newly renovated building? What might the “container” be? What items could be included? Would YOU be interested in helping with this? Contact Susan O’Neill, Chairperson of the Rekindle Communications Team: susan_oneill@sympatico.ca

“For everything there is a season, and a time for every matter under heaven: a time to keep, and a time to throw away; a time to tear, and a time to sew.” (Ecclesiastes 3: 1, 6-7)